Worship values in the Vineyard

Intimacy

Intimacy with God is the primary destination for us as we worship. We draw near to God, and He draws near to us. As we encounter His presence in worship, we cultivate a deep connection with him. Intimacy is not a musical style or a tone of voice; it is a posture of our hearts.

Accessibility

As worshipping communities, we extend the welcome of Jesus to people; inviting them to enter into His Presence. We are intentional about bringing people with us on a journey of worship by building as many bridges both musically and pastorally. From the style of music, to the songs that we sing, we are creating environments for people to participate in worship.

Integrity

Our desire is that the songs that we sing, would match the lives that we lead. While we value the form that our worship takes, we place an even greater value on the formation of our community. Our gathered times of worship are powerful places of transformation. We enter God's presence not as we think we should be, but come as we are. And yet, we don't remain as we are; we are renewed and become increasingly like Jesus.

Kingdom Expectation

In worship we welcome the King and His Kingdom. We cultivate an expectation that God will speak, move, heal, deliver and perform miracles among us as we worship. We experience in part what we will ultimately know in full: our complete restoration in God's Kingdom.

Passion

Passion is the expression of a fire in our hearts for God. As we worship, we not only affirm our love for God, but we learn to love what He loves. We are authentic in our worship, whether we are in a season of joyful celebration or a time of deep sorrow. As worshipping communities, we choose to be present to Jesus and engage with what He is doing in us and in our community.

Count onward from the chord family to the key you wish to play in to find the fret where you place your capo.

This table shows the chords in their families for their major keys. Learn the chords at positions 1, 4, 5, 6 & 2 (relative minor & minor 2nd).

Learning these chord families will allow you to play many songs in any major key. The C,A,G,E,D chord families will be the most useful to learn.

An easy way to transpose is to select a chord family to play in, look at the chart and then count to the key you wish to transpose to. This will give you the fret number to place your capo on. e.g. using the D chord family to play in the key of E, you count 2 so place your capo on the 2nd fret.
